A few minutes of courage might change your life...Emotionally, Tara Porter finds the festive period a challenge. Christmas Day is a reminder of the family she lost, and New Year's Eve holds bitter memories of the biggest mistake of her life: marrying Garth Tewkesbury. Shunning invitations to celebrate, she seeks refuge in her flat with only her giant house bunny, Hercules, for company. Professionally, though, it's the best time of year. Tara's thriving café, The Chocolate Pot, is always packed. With the café hosting a wedding and engagement party, it's shaping up to be the café's best Christmas ever. When former nemesis, Jed Ferguson, threatens the future of The Chocolate Pot, Tara prepares for a fight. The café is everything to her and she's not going to let anyone or anything jeopardise that. Tara badly misjudged ex-husband Garth and, since then, has refused to let anyone in. After all, if you don't let them in, they can't hurt you. But has she misjudged Jed too? Is it possible that he's not the arrogant, deceitful man from whom she bought the café 14 years earlier? Can she find the courage to find out for sure? What Readers and Reviewers say: "If you're after a book which ignites deep emotions within, has you feeling as snug as a bug in a rug whilst also wishing you had a pet rabbit named Hercules, this book has your name all over it. An insightful, emotive, and tender story which will sweep you off your feet faster than Cinderella losing her shoe. An absolute pleasure to read." – The Writing Garnet "This was a beautifully told story, filled with quirky and charming characters that completely captured my heart! Loved loved loved this book! Jessica Redland I think this is the beginning of a beautiful relationship!" – Audio Killed The Bookmark "Wow oh wow what a book. Not only is the cover absolutely sparkling with Christmas Charm, it's also an Enchanting Story filled with many surprises. Just like opening a present. The gift that keeps on giving!" Dash Fan Reviews "A fabulous cover, brilliant plot and some excellent characters... I thought that the story was excellent, it flowed very well and it has the author's fabulous writing style that brings it all to life. I have read quite a few books by the author now and she is definitely one for me to watch as I have loved all the books I've read so far. She makes the characters in her books believable and in this one I warmed to them from the outset and loved following them develop as the book progressed." Donna's Book Blog.
